

Gobe Divers April 2010 Newsletter

Join us Thursday, April 22 for a special presentation on the Humpback Whales of Niue! Celebrate Earth Day with others who love the sea.

Sandra Schroth and Ed Sauer have been underwater-videoing whales at this remote Polynesian island twice in the last two years, hoping to catch a newborn, and are delighted to have had many very close encounters with these gentle giants (of all sizes!) They are working on a documentary with their Red One HD video camera, and have graciously agreed to share their latest work with us. They will also share a travel log of Niue, a remote and underdeveloped island that they have grown to love!

6pm for social hour (bring food or drinks to share) and 7pm Presentation

Gobe Club Pool Dive, Sunday, May 2, 1-3pm. Come in and blow some bubbles.

Blue Hole, New Mexico, May 21-23. Plan now, as it's the best weather of the year! Join as a dive-along or enroll in the Advanced Course and dive six dives with an instructor.

Individual Dive Vacation Booking

Consider booking your dive vacation through us! Same package pricing as if you did it yourself on-line, and you can help us out as well. We know many destinations and liveaboard boats, from Cozumel to Hawaii and Indonesia. Use your airline miles!

Time for gear? If you have been pondering buying your first set of gear or considering replacing your old gear, come see what we can do for you. An amazing deal, VR Technologies is offering a trade in program. Bring in any dive computer, working or not, and we'll send it to the VR folks to recycle. You will get a brand new VR3 for $800 or a VRx for $1035 – that's more than 50% off!! Both are Trimix/Nitrox/Open and Closed Circuit technical dive computers.

Come see the whales with us on April 22,
The Gobies
